Risk and Reward Profile

Important information for investors

Parties entering into transactions (such as a derivative or financing transaction) or investing in financial instruments that use an index or a variable interest rate (benchmark) are exposed to the risk that: (1) such benchmark may be subject to methodological or other changes which could affect the value of the relevant transaction; or (2) (i) may become not compliant with applicable laws and regulations (such as the European Benchmark Regulation), (ii) may cease to be published (possible cessation of LIBOR publication or planned cessation of EONIA both after December 2021), or (iii) the supervisor or administrator of any such benchmark may make a statement that the relevant benchmark is no longer representative, and as a consequence the relevant benchmark may be replaced by another benchmark which may have an adverse and material impact on the economics of the relevant transactions. You should conduct your own independent investigation and analysis of the potential consequences of any relevant risks such as those mentioned above, particularly in light of the ongoing industry initiatives related to the development of alternative reference rates and the update of the relevant market standard documentation

Risk Factors

It is important for potential investors to evaluate the risks described below and in the fund prospectus which can be found on www.melanion.com.

Capital at risk: The initial capital invested is not guaranteed. Therefore, investor's capital is at risk and the amount originally invested may not be wholly or partially recovered, notably if the Benchmark Index is subject to a negative performance over the investment period.

Index Tracking Risks: While the Fund seeks to track the performance of its Benchmark Index, there is no guarantee that it will achieve perfect tracking and the Fund may potentially be subject to tracking error risk, which is the risk that its returns may not track exactly those of its Benchmark Index, from time to time. In particular, for liquidity reasons, the fund may have to keep part of its net assets in cash, these assets therefore not following the evolution of the benchmark index. In addition, the Company relies on an index license granted by a third-party index provider to use and track the Benchmark Index. In the event that the index provider terminates or varies an index license, it will affect the ability of the Fund to continue to use and track its Benchmark Index and to meet its investment objective.

Currency Risk: The Fund is exposed to currency risk, as the underlying securities composing the Benchmark Index may be denominated in a currency different from the Benchmark Index, or be derived from securities denominated in a currency different to that of the Benchmark Index. Changes in exchange rates may therefore adversely affect the Fund's Benchmark Index.

Liquidity Risk: Liquidity is provided by registered market-makers on the respective stock exchange where the ETF is listed. On-exchange liquidity may be limited as a result of a suspension in the underlying market represented by the Underlying Index tracked by the ETF; a failure in the systems of one of the relevant stock exchanges, Société Générale or other market-maker systems; or an abnormal trading situation or event.

Investors must buy and sell units on a secondary market with the assistance of an intermediary (e.g., a stockbroker) and may incur fees for doing so. In addition, investors may pay more than the current net asset value when buying units and may receive less than the current net asset value when selling them. Updated composition of the product's investment portfolio is available on www.melanion.com. In addition, the indicative net asset value is published on the Reuters and Bloomberg pages of the product and might also be mentioned on the websites of the stock exchanges where the product is listed.

There is no guarantee that the fund's objective will be met. The fund may not always be able to replicate exactly the performance of the index (or indices).
